It will be probably be passed "on consent." Usually, they take care of the consent items at the top of the agenda. That's positive news and speaks to everyone's good work and commitment up to this point.

Hi folks: great news. I just heard back from CD 14, and it seems like things are fairly set for tomorrow. There won't be public comment, and they seem confident about the vote. I think it's still a good idea for at least Rey and I to go, and whoever else can join us, but this is a great relief.

"There will be no public comment and therefore there won't be a need for a turnout. Ari and Diana have both said that everything is pretty set. Not entirely sure what that means but it sounds like its a good thing."

Thank you everyone for staying so vigilant on this!!!

Okay, thanks for the updates folks!

CM Huizar just issued a press release restating his strong support for demolition and the Civic Center Master Plan. That is great, and helpful for us! I'm asking CD 14 whether there is public comment, and their sense of the vote. Will report back when I hear.

Joanne, do you know which offices have been contacted by the Conservancy?

Thanks!

I can attend (and possibly will have Grant, my new Director provide public comment).

Here is the updated agenda. We are item 10.

Thanks for the update all Joanne and Kristin.

I have an internal LTSC meeting. I can see if I can move it or if someone else can attend.
Kristin-- might be good to ask more folks to see who is available.

Friday's Council meeting is at 10am.

Nate (CD 14) is recommending LT folks try to come out just in case.

Ah, thank you for this update!!! Do we know the time of the meeting on Friday? Is it 10am again? And do we know which council offices they were calling? I just checked in with CD 14 - it seems like they weren't called.

Granted, I think with Huizar finally coming out strongly and publicly with his support behind demolition / for LT / for the Civic Center Master Plan, it's less of a concern, but being vigilant and prepared just in case is definitely always good.

I truly don't understand why they want to fight this all the way to the very finish.

Hi All,

Just received a message that the LA Conservancy are making phone calls to City Council offices. I think they will be at City Council for the vote! We need to be prepared,
